

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary is a gross abuse of their role as media owners.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Partisan politics of executives have no place in the newsroom of a television station.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
